The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Quercus root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Dr. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as to all bilious or liver complaints and in "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing by applying to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or x-ray composition, even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the digestive stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

WIFE-BEATER PUNISHED.

John Morton, wifebeater, stood before the recorder in the police court at Bayonne, N. J., yesterday, and his wife with both eyes blackened and her face all puffed up from the blows, was there as his accuser. The recorder looked at the woman and his face grew stern.

"Take off your shoes," said the recorder to Morton.

The prisoner sat down and slowly removed his brogans, while the crowd in the courtroom gasped in expectation of something interesting. Then the recorder said to Constable Haasmeyer:

"Officer, give this man a good spanking."

The constable, a husky citizen, grabbed the prisoner, sat down in the chair, drew Morton across his knee, and seizing one of the shoes raised it aloft and brought it down with a heavy thud on the most available portion of the wife-beater's anatomy.

"Wow!" yelled Morton. "Stop that, will ye!"

The crowd in the courtroom snickered, and a faint glimmer of a smile appeared on the disfigured countenance of Mrs. Morton.

"Give it to him good," ordered the recorder, and the shoe rose and fell with a precision and force that made the wife-beater squirm and howl.

The constable grew red in the face with his exertions, but he never missed a stroke, and held the prisoner by the back of the neck with a viselike clutch.

Morton was moaning and weeping when Recorder said "That's enough!" and then called the wife to the rail.

"Will you now forgive this man and take him home with you?" asked the recorder of the woman.

"No, I won't," was her emphatic reply. "What would be the use? He came home last night, ugly from drink, and beat me unmercifully, as you can see. He beat me worse than the constable beat him. Now if I were to take him back home he would be nice as pie for a time; then, as soon as he got drunk again, he would pound me to pieces. No, judge the best place for him is in jail. And the longer he has to stay there the better for him."

Morton fell on his knees and begged forgiveness.

"You didn't pay any attention to my pleading last night when I begged you not to hit me again," she replied. "On your way to the workhouse," and she turned her back on him.

The recorder remanded him to jail.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid makes it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama Canal. Many are restrained, however, by the fear of fevers and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malaria influence with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison, biliousness, weakness of all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store, 50c.

BOGUS BARON.

Frederick Goebel, who posed as a Hungarian baron, and in that guise eloped with Marion Dougherty, the seventeen-year-old daughter of D. Webster Dougherty, the Philadelphia lawyer and clubman, in London, last June, went to Philadelphia yesterday in pursuit of his bride, who had been brought home by her parents, and got a hot reception when he tried to enter the Dougherty home at Bryn Mawr last night. Several private detectives, three watchdogs, and a corps of servants prevented the spurious baron from seeing the girl whose affections he had run away with last summer.

Mrs. Dougherty, who is prominent in Philadelphia society, took her daughter for a trip on the continent early last summer. While in Paris they met Goebel, who told them that he was of a noble family in Hungary and that he had great estates on the Danube. Both Mrs. Dougherty and the impressionable daughter were charmed with Goebel, and the mother invited him to take an automobile ride through Normandy.

The baron had not long been a member of the automobile party when Mrs. Dougherty grew displeased at the attention he was pressing upon her daughter. Her fears were increased when she saw that the romantic young girl was completely captivated by the graces of the baron. Mrs. Dougherty put back to Paris, and told the baron that he must not see Marion any more.

After that prohibition had been put in effect, Goebel and Marion Dougherty promptly eloped. They hurried to London, where they were married. Mrs. Dougherty cabled for her husband in haste, and when Dr. Dougherty arrived they both went to Vienna to look up the baron's pedigree. They found that his estates were a myth and his title bogus.
